Day 3: Sort Array of Objects

Task

Write a JavaScript function to sort an array, library, of objects containing information about books by their title. The array library is given in the template of the code. You only have to fill in the relevant parts of the code to print the sorted library array by the title, in lexicographical order. No input and no sample test cases, you can directly submit your solution.